

It all began in May 2010 when a gaggle of eager senior citizens gathered for the very first Ukulele for Beginners Class at the Culver City Senior Center. From the first song, "Row Row Row Your Boat, the "uke joy" has continued weekly. Even though the class was scheduled for two months, it became apparent that the instructor, Cali Rose, and the students couldn't stop themselves. They were having too much fun! In just a few months, they have gone from Rowing their Boat to playing and singing Nat King Cole's jazz classic, "L-O-V-E," which is the title for their first music video: "CC Strummers Do L-O-V-E." This class is about having fun AND learning to play an instrument AND making music together, thanks to Cali Rose's enthusiastic instruction.
