

CCSCA MEMBERS OF THE YEAR DON & ROBERTA ROYBAL

*The Culver City Senior
Citizens Association is pleased to honor
Don & Roberta Roybal
Members of the Year for 2017*

Roberta (aka Ruby) and Don Royal were born and raised in Los Angeles. They were both born at the old General Hospital, now known as USC Medical Center. This summer they both reached the age of 80 years young. They were classmates and graduated together at Belmont High School in 1955. Each married the person they were going steady with at the time. They were good friends in the same circle for 60 years. Roberta was employed at the Los Angeles Times for 30 years. She retired at age 56 and Don worked until age 75.

New beginnings for the couple came when they moved to the west side. Once settled in, something was missing. Enter the Culver City Senior Center: 5 years later the couple learned to dance together and sing together in karaoke. Most importantly, they found the many friends they now have who made them feel so special. Don and Ruby have learned so much from their counterparts and are always interested in each person's unique story.

Don and Ruby share a passion for music and dancing, which brought them to the Saturday Dance at the Senior Center. They were thrilled to find so many new people to know! They stepped forward to help out at the dances and that started their enthusiasm for volunteering. They have found volunteering most fulfilling and are happy to handle most everything that has to do with the Saturday dance. Ruby is always thinking of a better way to make the dances easier to manage.

This couple works well together, after 35 years of marriage. Now when volunteering for certain projects, Ruby puts BOTH names on the list! They are so pleased to be named Members of the Year and look forward to many years of continued learning and volunteering, which gives them a sense of purpose and great joy.
